Organized Gang Stalking: New Torture Tactic to Neutralize Citizens ...

Battling Disinfo

I like to think that because we are being targeted that we are in a superior position somehow to be able to work around disinformation, to be able to spot when Cointelpro Stasi type tactics are being used and to move beyond that but most people are not, and that is where we will most likely fail. I am not being negative, I am just going over what I have observed, and what has worked time and time and again and from what I can see has every hope of working again for the wrong reasons.

I have pointed out several times that you are lucky to find 1 out of 10 of these websites on the Internet to be true websites belonging to targeted individuals.

I have also pointed out that even when people start off being true targets this does not always last very long, remember the Stasi recruited heavily from within the targeted community, so more then half the activist were working for both sides.

We have seen in the past where Cointelpro went about discrediting legit targets and you would think that the Targeted Individual community would be immune to this somehow, that they would know better, that they would know what to look for, but most times they don't seem to. They seem to be just as vulnerable if not more so as anyone else.

The other problem is people still like to gather in groups and many people still like to follow a leader, they like to feel that things are getting done, even when they are being lead in directions that might slow them down, they still will follow that course.

I have watched this over time, and in some ways I do not blame them, people want help, they want quick solutions, whatever will bring their torment to an end, and the scary part is, they are just as capable of making the same mistakes as those that are targeting them, without realising it.

This brings me back to the topic of these witch hunts, which are designed to look not like witch hunts, but a means to help the community, to tell the community what is good vs bad information. Do targeted individuals realise that some of this is going to get used to discredit legitimate activists? Do they realise that it will be used to promote in some cases those that are non credible, or not the most credible sources at times? Do people realise that it will be used to do what could not be done outright?

With these charming credibility reports, or witch hunts as I still like to call them, they are being used to target legit sites and activists.

For example gang stalking world has gotten a bogus rating, do you want to know why? Apparently because the techniques section is listed in alphabetical order, and Eleanor White (and sources) do not like that. (The same Eleanor White who is was happy to lead people on the vigilante bend), anyways, Eleanor has appointed herself and her minions the self appointed guards of what can and can not be used for the Targeted Individual community. So instead of just bashing people, she has found a very subtle way to convince people that what she is doing is noble, and helping the community. She is telling you what is credible and not credible so you no longer need to think for yourselves, just like the people targeting us, they are being told who is good and who is bad, and they no longer need to think for themselves. (Everytime I see those credibility reviews, I remember Harry Potter character Dolores Umbridge.)

The scary part about the human race is that people at times are so easy, they do the same things over and over again, but in different ways. If you ask many of the people targeting us, they don't realise that they are doing anything wrong, because a so called authority figure has told them it's ok, or wrong or right. I think there are now some legit targets that might be starting to take the so called bogus credibility reports seriously, and this is the only reason I am taking the time to try to address this again, before the witch hunt goes too far, but witch hunts are like that, and I see how much luck we have had stopping out own externally, only to go and let one be conducted internally. The irony of it all.

Anyways this issue has to be addressed. Are you as Targeted Individuals going to let people tell you what is legit and what is not legit? Who is legit and who is not legit? See this way Eleanor never has to target a person, no she can target their material, or website, but most people will put not internalize it that way. What they will do is take a bogus rating and think that the person behind the material is also bogus, this way no fingers ever have to get pointed, and as a new target, I am fairly sure this will work very well. Most people will never consciously realise this, but that is the message that is internalised.

This method is wonderful, because you again get to fire the bullet, without pulling the trigger, and if you don't see the parallels to what is being done to us externally, with what the so called bogus credibility review is doing internally, then I don't know if there is much hope externally in getting our informant force to recognise that what they are doing is wrong.

I am taking the time now, because I do not think I will be going back to this. It's taken years to get to where we are, I addressed this earlier and I will address it again. For some reason along with the credibility reviews, there is an open effort amongst Eleanor and others to get rid of the term Gang Stalking. Having mulled it over, not only does this impede progress, but getting rid of this term, would put things into the organized stalking camp, a place where I have always left the David Lawson's and others who I think belong there.

Anyways, I was going to try to find a nice way to do this, but I don't think what people need is nice, they need blunt awareness. The same way I am blunt about what is happening to us, and who is behind it, is the same way I am starting to have to be more blunt with what is happening. There has been too much legit ground gained to lose that ground, to sources, that might have other agenda's.

Remember people, these people that are doing this, know this will come out, when it does, they want to be holding the cards. This means they want their people, the 9 out of 10, plus their sleeper agents up front and available to smile and answer questions, and to be the ones running the show in the direction that they choose. The same would be true if I organised, there people would be littered in any organization that you try to form, the same as with Cointelpro, and the panthers.

For me I still think a leaderless resistance is the way to go, where there is information, but people do their own thing, because if one is taken down, others can remain. The disadvantages are many, but then the advantages are also there, it's 6 of one half a dozen of the other.

Maybe it does not fully have to be one or the other, if there is a way that we can work together, but remain separate, I would love to see that, but from what I have seen, the legit are still being targeted, turned, or put away and others have a path laid out because it suits the agenda.

If you have not read bridging the gap, please take a moment to do so, because it does explain a great deal about what is happening and why.

Some would tell you that the only term that you can use is organised stalking, and if you use the term gang stalking that is bad.

I have addressed this before, but I am going to take the time to address it again because it's important.

My primary feeling when doing activism is that you need to use the term that works for you. That's my first recommendation.

There are many people who have been through the former East Germany, many who see what's happening and use the term Stasi, or they refer constantly to East Germany and the situation there.

Other use the term Cointelpro to describe what's happening now, and what has been happening to them. It's like Cointelpro 2, so they use that term.

Some use the term organised stalking to describe what is happening, but this term in my opinion has never truly covered the full concept of what we are facing.

I have liked Community Mobbing because when I first tried to get members of the Stalking Community and the Mobbing community involved in helping us expose what was happening, the mobbing community understood right away, and were willing to help, the stalking community was not helpful at the time.

Snitching, this is a term I don't think many in the TI community identify with, but after doing the research, this is my finding, those who were promoting the stop snitching message, we more aware of the problem that was ongoing in society with Informants than many Targeted Individuals were. The stop snitching movement as you may or may not realise has been demonized by those who would like to see the informant system continue as it as.

Which brings me to the so called deliberate desire by some to remove the term Gang Stalking and replace it with terms that do not fully describe what has happened to the Targeted Individual community, but to also destroy all the progress that has been made over the last 3-4 years using that term.

As I have stated before when a terms gains popularity and you try to replace it with a different term, there is a process of almost starting from scratch, this means all the previous efforts are almost wiped and the process has to begin again.

You lose ground and that is not good for any movement. The bogus reasons given is that too often using the term Gang Stalking puts people in mind of criminal gangs, but over the last three years, most no pretty much every article written on this subject that people can find in a major newspaper uses the term Gang Stalking, here is a list.

Victim Testimonies

UK Victim – female.

I have just worked out what has been happening to me and it is not very nice at all. It meant that I was sectioned as I was so shocked and also have a major inconvenience of being electronically harassed as well. I thought I was going to die – as was chased and I was sent me an awful magazine which frightened me so much that I tried to take my life twice in the end.

Both very difficult to prove to a wider audience. I have employed a counselor who actually believes the gang stalking bit. I have yet to tell her about the electronic harassment – seems far fetched – well it is isn't it?- but it is happening. I have also employed a private psychologist – who basically believes the two – however she has yet to get to how it affects me. The psychologist still wants me to take drugs – nope – won't go there. So I can cope better?

I have been told life will be difficult – well it is very difficult. A husband who won't come into my world. My mother has and believes me mostly. My little brother thinks I am nuts and should be locked up. My older brother just has not been anywhere or done a lot of things in life – although give him his due he had heard of gang stalking – so perhaps initially that was a little harsh

I am not a nutter and pretty normal considering – but it is going to be tough to get people to believe it. You can't see either.

The other thing is that this all stems from what we perceive as the crises teams for mental health – who will believe that? Well I do for one – a mate of mine when they arrived at her house nearly wet herself and then closed all curtains etc etc….. When I went to see here afterwards she just would not speak at all. I could not understand it at the time. Now I do. Her parents must have informed her at one time as they were nurses for the team once. I have known her for years and she would have got married to my brother at one time.

I am still in disbelief – I feel like I am watched 24/7 – well I suppose I am. I have done so much research that I am an expert on mind control and gang stalking. I can explain it eloquently and without too much waffle. Mine covers Psychotronics, surveillance, tracking, – ie followed everywhere. I am also thinking it covers synthetic telepathy too. I have the works basically. I did not realise this happens in Britain. My recruiter was via a life coach and counselor who basically was not who she said she was. There was cover in there somewhere.

All of this is so long winded and difficult to explain that I would take over the space. Just watch your back if you harassed – and try to get on with things as normal. To be honest my life has changed dramatically – and I don't like it one bit.

The electronic harassment is the difficult one – hurtful – painful – sleeping is difficult – everything is difficult – you even have physical symptoms which a vast in range.

Why me is all I keep asking me. Power and money I was told.

Betty Tillman

I have been gang stalked for 21 years and probably longer but I did know it. It seems that I was born into a targeted family thanks to actions of my grandmother and a wealthy Jewish person. Presently, these sadistic persons , which appear to be at least half of New York City are trying to kill me. I am a born again Christian and God has been faithful to his covenant. Although I was a high school teacher, I was made poor, homeless and am now surviving in a supportive housing. However, “all things work together for good to those that love the Lord and are the called according to his purpose.” These sadist are under mind control and have been trained to harass, abuse and torture. Something has and will be done. Did you know that January is National Stalking Month? Goggle it in and find out what’s happening. We need to EXPOSE these cultists, these antiChrist electronic vipers. I’m angry and will do what I can to get this exposed.

Masonic involvement in gang stalking

A Freemason is a person who knowingly destroys people's lives for self gain.

Freemasons portray themselves as a good charitable fraternity of men. They own the media so they get to say what they want. They have infiltrated all of society. It is nothing less than an international money making scam (same as the crooked pyramid schemes). Did you know that the ninth degree Masons take their vows to kill for Freemasonry ? Masons are also the NWO's foot-soldiers. All secret societies, orders and cults are as one (intertwined) with this evil human virus called "Freemasonry".

In defence of most Masons, they were conned in the first place. They were led to believe it was a good fraternity of men, then they were hoodwinked and threatened with violence. If they had known this before they joined, nobody would have anywhere near them. Masons are trapped into this extreme evil, they are too scared to talk freely. They have become FM slaves and most have become crooked benefactors.

This information is brought to you by Second Family (UK), a support/pressure group for victims of Freemasonry. We are not a hate or revenge group, only peaceful campaign for change and to educate 90% of the world. One Mason will lead you to all other Masons in business/politics/authorities and at social events, engagements, weddings and funerals.

Without a doubt Freemasonry is central to gang stalking. They are the instigators and organizers having worked very hard to have the required laws passed and relevant institutions set up. In 2000 the Investigatory Powers Act (RIPA) was passed allowing any lowly constable to initiate investigation of any individual with a large budget allocated as long as and application is signed off by a senior officer or civil servant. Check out the following link for the application and look around the site under Home Office RIPA in the UK.

So when the target reacts to the harassment and corrupted "investigation" then the case is referred to the Fixated Threat Assessment Centre otherwise known as the Home Office secret stalker squad as it is commonly called by practitioners of silent murder. I have been told up to 4000 people a year are chosen for this treatment and it is sustained for 1000 indefinitely. Of course the good men of the Freemasons will offer a helpful hand as part of the police informer network and readily employ their own stalkers tactics to induce fear and paranoia in their target to sustain the funding from the public purse. The is no external oversight with this process and it is exempted from the Freedom of Information Act and the Data Protection Act 1998 because it is an ongoing investigation.

The truth about the illegal, Stasi-styled Zersetzung programs and abuse of power

I have suggested that “there are actually four branches of government, not three. The executive, judicial and legislative branches are controlled by the fourth branch — the “Deep State.” The Deep State is comprised of power-brokers within intelligence agencies, the military-industrial complex and multinational corporations (MNCs).”

Now what I am concerned about are oversight and control mechanisms within the federal law enforcement and intelligence agencies, and the Department of Defense, or lack thereof. The President of the United States of America does not have the highest level of security classification available, and indeed, even the names of certain classification levels are themselves classified.

The same applies to members of senatorial and congressional oversight committees. They are not provided full access to the inner workings of the NSA, CIA, DIA, FBI and the other alphabet soup agencies. But doesn’t this create a bit of an issue? After all, who is watching the watchers?

And if members of the senatorial and congressional oversight committees, as well as SCOTUS are not aware of the most sensitive of programs and their effects on the future of our country, and the impact on the population, does that not present a problem, and is it representative of bigger issues?

Is there a hidden agenda which is more important than the citizens of the United States and the future of our country?

In the minds of the people which control the different segments of the Deep State, is harm to the population and the country considered “negligible collateral damage” in the grand scheme of things? Are “we the people” only “disposable fodder?”

I guess I am also thinking of the scientific advances which are half a century or more beyond what the general public is aware of, but that the Deep State keeps hidden from us. The cures, and the science behind unrevealed means of space travel which as one top aerospace executive stated now allowed us to “bring E.T. home.”Mainstream media never covered that one. Where were you guys?

I am also preoccupied with the Stasi-styled security apparatus which is running amok while the majority of country is either in a state of deep hypnosis or has a chronic case of Stockholm Syndrome.

Cyber-harassment, destruction of families, non-lethal weapons deployed by the NSA, the FBI and DHS engaged in a sadistic and sociopathic gang rape session with hundreds of thousands of Americans — and yet neither the mainstream media nor the politicians will address it.

Some might say, “but certainly the NSA, DHS and FBI and the private security contractors have limits, control mechanisms, and oversight.”

By who I ask? The current program, which is being run like Zersetzung on steroids, is classified – as was COINTELPRO, the campaign revealed by the Church Committee in the 1970’s.

So when people say “Not in our democracy, we are not like the Nazi’s,” your response should be, “they deployed a similar program against segments of the American population in the 1970’s, when our system had more checks and balances than it does now.

But there is an exponential issue; in the 1970's technology was not as developed as it is today. And thus we have cowardly thugs who hide in the shadows perpetrating horrors against the population which would make Hitler, Stalin and Mao giggle with glee.

Where is the oversight? There isn't any. Who controls these rogue groups, funded with the money from the pockets of American taxpayers? The short answer is, there is no control mechanism.

We should also question whether members of the senatorial and congressional oversight committees are even aware of the Zersetzung operations in the U.S. – the “Gang Stalking” as some people call it?

Are they aware that a multi-billion dollar industry is running in the shadows like an exotic safari, where innocent Homo Sapiens are stalked and slaughtered to fill the coffers of the National Security Racketeering Network, of which private security companies are part?

Maybe the reason that technology is kept from the public eye is that there really is a hidden agenda, and we are not part of it. We are fodder, and our loss of life, health, family or home is of no consequence to these mindless sociopaths; our loss is collateral damage.

But what is the future then for “Targeted Individuals, Watch-listed Individuals,” victims of Zersetzung attacks formulated by the Nazis, perfected by the Stasi, and reborn in the corridors of the Deep State, like a demented Phoenix on steroids?

One suggestion is that the progenitors of this program are like cannibalistic snakes which occupy a pit. Eventually they may begin to consume each other. Or they could be compared to a speed demon who is engineering a train without brakes. What happens when the train reaches the bottom of the hill?

I think that some of the people involved in these dark and classified programs, are so consumed with power, that they have no recognition of the sub-human devils they have morphed into, like addicts of a deadly drug.

Others may know what they have become, yet in the style of Hitler, Stalin and Mao, bask in the warmth of the blood they spill — and feed off of it like crazed medieval demons.

SECRET, COVERT GANG STALKING VEHICLE ON-THE-ROAD HARASSMENT

Millions of Americans are being covertly harassed in their vehicles on the road, every day, as a part of gang stalking terrorism tactics, and nothing is being done about it.

How would you feel if you were made aware that you were being watched and followed everywhere you went by crowds of total strangers.

How would you feel if you were made aware that you were being followed into every store and business you went into by crowds of total strangers, daily, following you down each isle and crowd mobbing you and invading your space at the counter, while trying to pay for your goods.

This is happening to millions of innocent American citizens all over the United States, myself included.

The above picture shows convoys of cars harassing a target on the road in a highly infested area where these criminals have moved in and have taken over much of the city's living quarters. (They usually move around each other in apartments and homes surrounding their targets for easy harassment and torture. If you were to look at the apartment parking lots it would be very obvious. There you will find rows of 4 and 5 same colored vehicles all through the lot. The tactic is to intimidate, bully and psychologically color-sensitize a targeted individual causing them to become paranoid and afraid to leave their home.)

Notice the mixture of mostly white, black, silver and red convoy of cars driving closely behind each other. Pay special attention to the picture showing the line of all white SUV's and line of silver cars driving directly behind each other. This is no coincidence.
I have been harassed with long lines of all black, all white, all red, all silver, and mixtures of black and white, red and white, and whatever these criminals decide is the color of the day.

When not harassing on the road many of these secret harassers usually have a special place where they park with like vehicles until needed. It doesn't just stop on the road. Whatever route you usually take to places they have already made special arrangements for color coded vehicles to be parked all along the way. So if the color of the day is white. Not only will the majority of cars following and crossing and turning around you will be white, but you will surely see convoys of white vehicles parked in plain site along your driving route.

Sounds crazy doesn't it? Some well-able financial entity is financing and training these evil criminals because all of the targeted individuals that I have talked with and listened to on our advocate phone conference call (Freedom from Covert Harassment and Surveillance) have thousands of targeted individuals giving witness to the fact that the same kinds of harassment and torture is happening in the same manner to all of us, using the same electromagnetic weapons of different sorts. Many of us have had our homes and cars vandalized and rigged with listening devices, as well as being secretly watched through the wall in our homes and apartments with thermal and X-ray devices.

Gang Stalking or Organized Stalking is a secret, covert crime threatening to take over America, These animals are ruthless and have a bully mentality on steroids. They must be exposed and stopped.

Many targeted individuals lives have been destroyed. They have lost everything, have become homeless, have all kinds of medical issues and are having all kinds of horrible, painful torture directed at their bodies 24/7. They attack and torture your children and animals as well, without a second thought.

They are sworn to secrecy and carry out their crimes with no moral conscience and with firm diligence. They are reaping benefits for the crimes they are committing against other human beings (money, apartments, homes, cars, etc.).

Where is the money coming from to support this evilness that lurks among us? Who is at the head of this scum-of the earth slow-kill murdering scheme that secretly exists in our country.

Gang stalkers trash relationships

The most unexpected gang stalking tactic, and the one which people are least prepared for, is the priority placed on trashing people's relationships – both personal as with lovers or closest friends or family. But also social, deliberately disrupting any social group the Target is involved in – whether work, a social club, or group of friends.

Feminist gang stalking

I've learned from subsequent extensive internet research. Basically, there exists in this country a secret cult of psychotic radical feminists, lead by some who have obtained powerful or influential positions, who secretly conspire to destroy men's lives simply because of their hatred, predicated on any one or combination of the usual reasons, of men in general. Their main tools are false allegations of abuse of women, mostly rape, and constant surveillance through planting software on the target's phone that enables the device to act as both a g.p.s tracking device and an eavesdropping tool. The phone acts as a microphone even when the target is not on a call so the listener can hear what is going on near the phone all the time when it is on. They use the g.p.s tracking to stalk the target where ever they go and then disseminate the defamatory allegations to everyone in the community. The target is then treated rudely by everyone he encounters. Even if the phone is turned off, the g.p.s,. tracking works. The battery must be removed from the phone to disable the tracking.

Feminism fits the elite's depopulation agenda. Since 1963, when "The Feminine Mystique" was published we have experienced an unprecedented breakdown in the family. More than half of all children are now born out of wedlock; the number of single parent households has tripled. In "The Broken Hearth," William Bennett writes: "Most of our social pathologies, crime, imprisonment rates, welfare, educational underachievement, alcohol and drug abuse, suicide, depression, STD's, are manifestations, direct and indirect, of the crackup of the American family (p.4)."

We are now suffering from underpopulation. The US birthrate has been cut from 4 to 1.88 children per woman, the European and Canadian is 1.5. (We need 2.2 just for replacement.) Russia (1.6 children) has remained steady. In the "Death of the West," Pat Buchanan argues that population decline is responsible for the inevitable extinction of the West.

Reproduction requires the most delicate care. In the case of human beings, the female must be prepared for motherhood and honored for her contribution to society. The male must be shown that the standard of manhood is to provide leadership and sustenance for mother and children. Both mother and father must be able to give their children intellectual and spiritual guidance.

Instead, in schools and universities, the tender shoots of feminine sexuality are crushed under the feminist jackboot. Young women are taught that heterosexual sex, marriage and family are inherently oppressive. Homosexuality on the other hand is an act of rebellion that is "chic" and "normal."

Friedan's comparison of mothers with concentration camp inmates is perfect. Betty Friedan, agent of the Illuminati cabal, put mothers in the concentration camp. Mothers!? The ultimate aim indeed is genocide. The Elite want the world's population to be much smaller. Can there be any question that this is the devil's work?

How people are lured into participating in gang stalking:

There are also ranks in the syndicate. The lowest members are pawns. They are not technically members, because there is no permanent service contract and they do not know they are working for us...

Recruits, however, are aware of a conspiracy. However, they still remain at a misinformed level. We simultaneously maintain teams of "religious" actors and "punk" actors. A person might join us thinking he is going to clean up the community. Another person might join us thinking he is going to cause trouble and anarchy. And they can go about their merry ways.

We even deliver information to them in different ways. To the religious ones, it is wrapped up in prophecy and revelation. To the punks, it is given a communist candy coating. However, they are all aware that the group is large.

They are also aware of a mutual benefit aspect to the operation. Only greedy un-idealistic people get beyond the recruit rank...

Recruits perform tasks that they know are illegal, or immoral, but they still generally believe that they are doing it for a reason.

Street theater

Street theater is any premeditated harassment that takes place in a public setting, ranging from the dumbfoundingly stupid and simple to the elaborate/sophisticated plan that definitely was not worth it.

– Leaving dead/dying animals in target's path. Squirrels, rats, mice, birds, dogs. Leaving small feathers in targets path repeatedly.

– Saying first or last names of family members/ close friends aloud in public within earshot. Strangers saying target's name in public.

– Crowding stores/shops after you arrive, causing delays in checkout lanes. Preoccupying employees with stupid questions/ requests. Paying for items with copious amounts of change.

– Having cats/ dogs/ children suddenly run into road as you drive by.

– Couples fighting in public w/ loud, abusive language. Younger males cursing, spitting, using vulgar language.

-People talking about severe abuse, suicides, drug abuse in front of target. People pretending to smoke hard drugs in front of target. People breaking down and crying/sobbing in front of target.

– Same time entry/exit by neighbors. Neighbors showing up at grocery store, pharmacy, cafes, gas station, drive thrus, church, etc.

– Insulting comments about body/hairstyle/ appearance/social skills/intelligence level, often said aloud in front of a group in public.

– Completely ignored by retail staff when you need help; then followed around by staff like a rash on your ass when you just want to shop in peace.

– Using artificial telepathy to block items target plans to buy at the store. You can go to the market at 2am and there be a perp blocking the item you want to buy.

– Using directed conversation to humiliate target in public.

– Staged road work, construction work, car accidents, traffic stops, landscaping, probationary community work everywhere you go. Roadwork will often include spraying something into the air as target passes such as water, clouds of dirt/dust, exhaust fumes. Landscapers will aim leaf blowers at/ near target.

– Staged outdoor large exercise groups passing you while driving, walking (high school “cross country”, “Mommy and Me” groups, Yoga classes, Hula Hoops, etc). Staged outdoor military style drills/group exercise. BJJ schools are heavily involved in my area.

– Aggressive/hyper exercise in front of target: running at high speed, paddle ball, frisbee, soccer, touch football, volleyball, “doing stairs”, outdoor aerobics, passing football/baseball back and forth. If there is a ball or frisbee involved, it will invariably be thrown in target’s path.

– Lone people playing instruments outdoors: bagpipes, trumpets, tubas, drums, guitar.

– Whatever building the target is in, if there is a security guard employed there they will make an appearance, frequently jangling keys the whole time like they are a prison guard.

– Store employees coming out and “busying” themselves in front of target to crowd them while target is shopping, frequently pushing loud carts/heavy objects around.

– Weird/ distracting bikes/vehicles w/ odd shapes/colors/sizes.

– Blocking harassment at every turn, by any means possible. Physically blocking target’s path everywhere they go. This is a major part of synchronized harassment.

– Air harassment, loud/low multiple flyovers, everything from model planes to commercial flights. They also had a flock a pelicans showing up every time I went near the water, occasionally landing near me. I’m still not sure if they were real birds or drones, but the perps seemed very interested in them.

– Wearing Easter bunny costumes in public the middle of the summer. Seeing homeless/gangster type characters in unlikely areas/neighborhoods.

– Refusing to shake target’s hand in church to make a sign of “peace”(perp will then turn around and shake another person’s hand).

-Stalkers playing multiple roles: Woman from church appears at gym as an exercise instructor, passerby at beach. Massage therapist appears as a priest after a Latin Mass. Inpatient psych nurse shows up in office posing as a coworker. Homeless male appearing later as a fellow psych inpatient.

– Stalking by coworkers and gym employees out in various public locations.

– Public nudity, sexuality, PDA. Scantily clad women (bikinis inside Subway restaurant), nudity/clothes falling off at beach, women in suggestive poses, men pretending to urinate on side of street.

– Acting distracted/spaced out while talking to target. Screwing up food orders w/ dining out/take out. Excessive talking/getting off topic, not allowing target to speak/ask questions.

– Fires drills, power outages, computer outages, water outages.

– "Apocalyptic" props. In the summer of 2012 the perps set up a large fishing boat a few miles off the coast. It was set up to look like it was capsizing. Of course it was never on the news. Highway convoys of stopped vehicles that go on for miles, usually going opposite direction of target to overwhelm them.

– Chemical harassment: perfume, pesticides, saw dust, cars w/ excessive exhaust, second hand smoke, marijuana fumes, urine odor, fabric softener, Halls menthol cough drops, mint gum, odor of airplane restroom. Any specific odors that they know target doesn't like or that will humiliate/ mirror them.

– Any excuse to congregate in a group near or around target but at the same time intentionally excluding target from the group activity/conversation.

– Loud screaming kids in any venue possible, including church. Walking multiple dogs at the same time. Kids are encouraged to act hyperactive and loud and engage in all the same harassment activities as the adult perps.

– Fake store employees that can be deployed within minutes by management. Specifically sent to annoy/harass target and act incompetent. This has a “reality show” aspect and you will frequently see the regular staff “handling” them and also getting annoyed with how stupid/inept they are. This may also be a service to store owners and regular staff who do not want to be held personally accountable for being Nazi traitors. Employees will be switched out at all the stores the target regularly shops at.

– The “Now you see me now you don’t act”, the same perp will randomly appear/ vanish in target’s sight while target is on an outing. Perp will let target pass them on a trail, then run by target, then fall behind again, etc. Perp will hide behind trees/buildings, then suddenly appear as target passes, etc. Same perp may appear to pass target multiple times/locations in a short period of time. This is often accomplished using doubles or look-alikes of the perp. The vanishing/appearing tactic is also done with inanimate objects as big as cars, not sure how they pull that off.

– Groups of “extras” deployed in the dozens to thousands to create “theater” at any given time. Setting include shopping malls, restaurants, churches, freeways, DMV, courthouses, hotels, sports stadiums, beaches, parks, concert venues, neighborhoods. Anywhere a flash mob can appear, the perps can appear. And since perps use fraudulent means to get access to secure areas, they have even more reach than regular flash mobs.

This definitely does not cover all street theater, I can give loads more examples but just wanted to get some info out there on this topic. Keep in mind street theater is also largely made up of other types of harassment previously covered in this blog like mimicking/mirroring, color harassment, gesture harassment, noise harassment, forced coughing, directed conversation, first responder harassment, vehicular harassment, stalking harassment. Workplace mobbing also involves a lot of theater, which I will cover in a future blog post.

Some of this may seem comical and people may wonder “what’s the harm”? The harm is when it’s done with frequency and duration to the target and their circle of support, it can cause a severe amount of stress and even death when combined with other gang stalking tactics. There are feelings of utter futility in not even being able to articulate this type of harassment in a coherent way. This is compounded by the fact that no one in law enforcement or the legal system will help and psychiatry will just label the target as delusional if they talk about it.

Experiencing the types of harassment mentioned above on a daily basis for years can and will lead to PTSD, nervous breakdowns, complete loss of trust in people, severe anxiety, depression, and suicidal/homicidal thoughts. Once the perps have accomplished complete dehumanization and destruction of the target, the target is blamed for all “of their own problems” and the perps walk away scot free.

Group stalkers have a lot to offer the world. These individuals usually are people who are intuitive and have the ability the see through deception and illusion. Whistleblowers and people who have exposed corruption or some sort of coverup often find themselves being gang stalked.

It appears now that gang stalking is finding individuals before they even apply themselves in these areas. Abstract thinkers, artist , visionaries world over seem to be singled out at higher and higher numbers to be systematically group stalked.

It is becoming more and more apparent that education on the subject of gang stalking will become mandatory at some point. This may come in as community education groups or be introduced officially within the educational system at some point. Students are finding themselves attending universities and being stalked class to class. Businessmen are finding themselves being group stalked at the corporations they have labored at for years.

When these individuals begin breaking the confusion stage of gang stalking they come to the internet and quickly discover that what is happening to them currently is happening to thousands of people who have been online for years describing the same exact attacks to the detail. They learn that this has reached the lives of millions of people around the world. People want answers and fast. People want remedy and fast. The risk are to high for the individual who does not receive assistance. We have seen an increase in violent behavior by the victims of the gang stalking , we have seen an increase in suicide , economic disaster , marital issues etc Gang stalking has the ability to completely devastate an individual's life If they do not receive the general acceptance of this occurrence by those around them. It may only take one or two people to help the individual tackle these obstacles.

Through united spiritual and mental force with honest values and integrity and character it is completely possible to create a suitable platform for this to occur. If you are not aware of gang stalking take time out to educate yourself on the subject and take time to know someone who is being gang stalked. If you are being gang stalked take the time and energy to start directly contacting people you perceive as being apart of this orchestration to some degree and create a line of communication. Some individuals won't be of assistance but the majority will. Most people involved in group stalking are not really affiliated with the overall creations of the stalking or the orchestrations of it. Out of 100% at best only 10% are involved with the heinous nefarious participation of the group stalking. These are the individuals in most cases you are the most likely not to come across. Or at least not very often.

Creating a reach out program will naturally build a foundation of support. This already is naturally taking place. More and more people who have never even heard of gang stalking are coming online and learning about it and creating videos blogs sites etc supporting individuals who are dealing with group stalking. People are connecting the dots. Individuals who have been claiming for years they have been getting gang stalked are beginning to be taken seriously by a much wider audience.

One of the barriers is Language. Although gang stalking is occurring around the world the barrier of language keeps up behind in educational progress. More videos and more dialogue need to made in bilingual format for the audience. Though culture may be far different the fact that two individuals from completely different sides of the world both are experiencing the same exact phenomena to detail is very powerful.

Are your family and friends gang stalking you ?

A larger percentage of people targeted by gang stalking often complain that there family and friends are a part of it. How is this happening ? Why ? And is there a remedy ?

First let's identify the driving force behind gang stalking. Gang stalking is a form of harassment that operates mainly as an attack on the individuals psychological functioning and can do unconscionable damage to the individuals social life. The core individuals involved in the group stalking of the target sit down and literally plan the best approach to target the individual as effectively and covertly as possible. Because the average target has zero education of gang stalking their ability to make educated decisions at what they face is almost absent. There ability to reason in this situation is very limited. A group of people have committed themselves through united mental force to obstruct the targets life with well fashioned strategically planned attacks. These attacks are very technocratic with technology assisting in these orchestrations 90% of the time. The methods used have been employed on countless victims prior to the target and millions around the world will simultaneously find themselves under the same attack as the target. During the confusion stage the target sees everything as elusive and unpredictable. Often stating that "everyone is in on it". The disinformation campaign is already running behind the targets back. The core individuals dedicated to creating as much havoc in the life of the target as possible have already sent out there minions and have done there networking. There first stop is those you are the most professionally , socially , and intimately involved with. How can they get these individuals to turn on you and participate with their overall group stalking invasion on your life ? Family is difficult to approach in this circumstance they may have a instinct to defend you. Creating a false image of the targets mental status is the number one way. Have you been acting paranoid ? Seeing people following you ? Are you delusional ? etc Creating an insecurity in your family members about you is the number one way to get them to "watch you" "it's for your safety". The details of how they do this will be fashioned to a gang stalking formula "putting the brights on there car" "wearing red shirts" etc These are the minor details that are added to the assignment and that is all the group stalkers want you to see. That's all they care about keeping the wheel of the group stalking going round and round. In the meantime individuals are receiving benefits for their participation. Free phones, prepaid credit cards, restaurant discounts ,car rentals. The division and isolation begins between you and your loved ones now there is a conscious separation. They have failed to warn you of there participation in your stalking, you now identify them as different. They now are your "gang stalkers". Overtime the group stalking network looks to mold these people more and more to do things towards you that are hurtful. That is there only real goal. They will orchestrate assignments between your family and strangers making "us against you" seem more and more of the common thread. Currently in the United States and around the world there are individuals committing suicide and murder over these sorts of orchestrations.

It works similar with any family member or friend a false picture of you is created and they seem like isolated agendas to an outsider but the overall networking of group stalking is stitching all of these dysfunctional creations together. Even worse the same family and friends usually are little aware of the much larger orchestration. Electronic weapons , covert drugging, swarms of stalkers repeatedly stalking you through the day while they are not catching it or around when it happens. They may talk among each other and say "this is not the program were apart of" "all we do is just check on them" they must be confused ? Or they have come to a conclusion that the benefits far out way the injustices you face. Little do they know they may very well be the next in line.

The Remedy ? While you cannot stop the money exchanging hands and the individuals accepting these gang stalking assignments you can change how you deal with it and how it affects your life to one degree or another. Knowledge is power and education is the key. Continue documenting your experiences video camera, journals , you may even get testimony from individuals involved in this. If now is not the time for your circumstance to be common knowledge among friends and family there will be a time in your future for that. keep approaching them and telling them what is happening to you, explaining it in different ways. Show the testimony of other targets to your family and friends. Build an awareness group even if it is only a small few people. Use the circumstance to build new opportunity and possibilities. In my courses I share with people to set goals and upon reaching those goals share with people from your perception how you have been battling with gang stalking and what that means to you.

Electronic harassment/electronic torture

Gang stalking, often accompanied by electronic harassment/electronic torture, is used to cause the physical or mental death of the target. The target is driven insane and commits suicide, collapses into a psychiatric patient, commits a (constructed) crime. This is called premeditated murder, and the ones participating are murderers. Gang stalking is also called organized stalking but it is better to call it organized murder.

A very limited list of physical effects that can be achieved using electronic weapons, many effects can be achieved suddenly, i.e. within a second, instant coughing, instant sneezing, pain, etc.:

- Scratching
- Stomach pain
- Urge to urinate
- Urge to defecate
- Diarrhea
- Coughing, sneezing
- Burping, farting
- Sleepiness
- Yawning
- Stomach pain
- Kidney pain
- Painful feet
- Painful legs
- Sleeping hands
- Heart attack
- Chest pressure
- Bubling stomach
- Blurred vision
- Nausea
- Fatigue

Electronic weapons are also used to attack our brain:

- Read your thoughts, subvocal speech
- Make you hear voices, tinnitus symptoms
- Plant thoughts into your head you cannot distinguish from your own thoughts unless you are aware
- Dream manipulation

Electronic weapons can also be used to cause all kinds of other effects:

- Plock sounds in your home
- Destroy your light bulbs
- Destroy garden plants
- Etc.

These weapons are used for over a decade by our national secret services. Often almost random innocent people, civilians, including children, are attacked, experimented upon.
